FREE EVENT!

We all turn to other people when we want to make important decisions, plan for the future, look for opportunities, and build relationships. Support circles are a way to bring people together who know and care about you or your loved one, to plan for and build the life that you want in your community. During this workshop we will share information about what support circles are, how they differ from person to person, and when and why you might choose to start one of your own.
